6. GENERAL IMPRESSIONS OF APPLICANT:

This applicant was born September 10, 1910 at Shenandoah, Pennsylvania, is single, and has two sisters and one brother. His father and mother are deceased. He states that he has no relatives in the Government service. (He is acquainted with Special Agent Frank Dunn and also Special Agent Fitzsimmons) and has met Assistant Director Nathan on one occasion. He states he heard of the workings of the Bureau while attending Catholic University and that investigative work of this type has always appealed to him, which prompted his filing his application. He stated he attended grammar school at Lost Creek, Pennsylvania and graduated from St. Joseph's High School at Girardville, Pennsylvania in 1928. In the fall of 1928 he enrolled in the Catholic University, and received his A.B. degree in 1932 majoring in Economics. He received his LL.B. degree in June 1935 and took the bar examination in June of this year but failed to pass. (He has had experience as a clerk in the A. & P. Grocery Store for one year at Girardville, Pennsylvania and for a period of six weeks was employed as a clerk in the J. L. Hudson Department Store in Detroit, Michigan.) For two summer seasons he worked as a helper for Mr. Walter Sharoka, a plumber, located in Washington. He then secured employment at the Sulphur Spring Seminary located on Michigan Avenue, this city and was employed there while attending college as a sort of a general handy man doing bookkeeping, typing and keeping the office open. His salary at first was $25.00 per month with his meals and that was increased until he finally received $40.00 per month and all incidentals. He resigned September 1, 1935 and (has been employed since Thursday last by the W.P.A. as a messenger and in charge of the information desk.) He stated that he believes his salary, although he has not been advised, will be $1260 per annum. He states he has never been arrested, engages occasionally in a social drink of liquor but never to excess, operates a typewriter using the touch system and can obtain a fairly good speed. The travel requirements which were explained to him were entirely satisfactory. This applicant possesses a good appearance, seems to be mentally alert, aggressive and wide awake. He has had rather a hard time securing his education and apparently has overcome many obstacles. He stated that he has read all the literature available in regard to the work of this organization in order that he might definitely decide whether this type of work would appeal to him and he has come to the conclusion that investigative work of this type would be to his liking. He is an outspoken young chap and has a good personality and I believe he would be the sort of an individual that would show gradual development in the service and within a short time would be better than an average Agent with the possibility that he possesses latent executive ability, and I therefore recommend favorable consideration.

Leo L. Laughlin entered the Undergraduate School of Catholic University, Washington, D. C., in September, 1928, when Special Agent B. F. At the time Laughlin entered Catholic University it was learned from his more intimate associates that he then resided at Girardville, Pennsylvania; that his parents were deceased and that he had a sister upon whom he depended for support and assistance in furthering his education. Inasmuch as Laughlin was enrolled in the undergraduate school, no opportunity was afforded Agent Fitzsimons to ascertain any information as to his scholastic attainments. APPROVED AND FORWARDED [Signature] SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE	DO NOT WRITE IN THESE SPACES 67-5812-20
COPIES OF THIS REPORT 2 Bureau 2 Washington Field	OCT 14 1935

A check of the files at the Baltimore Police Department does not reveal applicant has a criminal record at Baltimore, Maryland.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent H. W. Stewart, at Washington, D. C.:-

Agent interviewed Mr. W. S. Steele, 511 11th Street, N. W., who was given by the applicant as a reference. Mr. Steele advised that he has known applicant for more than three years, and that applicant was from Gerardville, Pennsylvania; that his acquaintance with applicant came about by virtue of the fact that Mr. Steele's son and applicant attended Catholic University at the same time and were quite friendly with each other. Mr. Steele stated that applicant visited at the Steele home on numerous occasions and was a friend of the entire family. According to Mr. Steele applicant is an orphan, and has had to work his way through college his work being in the capacity of secretary at the Sulpician Seminary Washington, D.C. It was Mr. Steele's impression that applicant took the District of Columbia Bar Examination during the summer of 1935 but failed to pass same.

Mr. Steele stated that the applicant formerly went with the daughter of Captain Maurice Collins of the Metropolitan Police Department until the death of this young lady about a year ago. Mr. Steele stated he has never known applicant to indulge in intoxicating liquors and knows him to have kept very regular habits. Applicant is neat in his personal appearance and appears to be in excellent health and has the happy faculty of making a good impression on people whom he meets. His only illness was when he had his tonsils removed about one year ago, according to Mr. Steele. Mr. Steele stated applicant was an excellent boy in every respect and he highly recommends him.

Agent interviewed P. F. Hamman, 1501 17th Street, N. W., who stated he has known applicant for the past five or six years during which time applicant was a schoolmate of Mr. Hamman's son at The Catholic University; that they were quite friendly with each other and applicant pays frequent visits to the Hamman home. According to Mr. Hamman applicant is, above all things, honest; secondly, he is industrious, dependable, and one of the finest young men known to Mr. Hamman. He worked his way through college and put in many long and hard hours doing so, according to Mr. Hamman, who further stated that he would not care to say anything about the company kept by applicant in view of the fact that applicant has been associated mainly with Mr. Hamman's own children and he feels that he might be prejudiced in his praise of his own children and would rather that someone else give an opinion on this matter.

Agent interviewed Dr. F. K. Price, Dentist, 3503 10th Street, N. E., who informed that he has known applicant for the past seven years during applicant's entire college career at Catholic University, and that for part of this time applicant has been one of his patients, having some dental work performed. According to Dr. Price applicant possesses a splendid personality, is a very neat young man in his appearance, and has always been liked by everyone with whom he has had contact. Applicant had a rather hard time financially in going through school, having to do outside work at the Sulpician Seminary but he has done this extra work most pleasantly and shown himself to be honest and industrious and of a thrifty nature. Applicant's sister has at times aided him financially in his school affairs and applicant has been most appreciative for this help. So far as Dr. Price knows applicant is a total abstainer from all forms of intoxicants.

At Catholic University, agent interviewed Mrs. A. Pugliese, clerk in the registrar's office, who examined the records of this institution and advised that applicant was enrolled in September 1928 having pursued his elementary education at St. Joseph's High School Gerardville, Pa., which latter institution he attended from September 1924 to June 1928 at which time he was graduated. While at Catholic University applicant pursued a general arts and science course from September of 1928 to June 15, 1932, when he was graduated and awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Applicant's average for his four years academic work in the arts and science college was 86%, it being noted that the required grade for passing is 70. After completing his academic work applicant enrolled in the Law School, in September 1932 and pursued a three years course in law, being graduated on June 12, 1935, and awarded the degree of Bachelor of Laws. During his law school career at Catholic University applicant maintained an average grade of 87. According to Mrs. Pugliese applicant is personally known to her as being a very fine student and a splendid boy personally. His school record further reflects that he was born September 10, 1910 at Shenandoah, Pennsylvania, and gives his guardian as his sister, Mrs. A. J. Deane, 376 Main Street, Gerardville, Pa.

The records in the office of the Registrar further disclose that applicant is not indebted to the University, all indebtedness having been paid prior to his graduation in June, 1935. Agent was advised, however, that applicant would possibly be indebted to the Treasurer of Catholic University, Mr. J. H. Cain. Mr. Cain was contacted and advised that applicant is indebted on a promissory note dated October 1, 1934 payable to Catholic University, bearing interest at 2%, and due October 1, 1935, in the sum of $100. This note is endorsed by Mrs. A. J. Deane, 376 West Main Street, Gerardville, Pa., and Donald C. Laughlin, 600 N. Paca Street, Baltimore, Md.

At the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court, District of Columbia, agent interviewed Mr. A. A. Horner, Assistant Clerk, who examined his records and advised that applicant has not been admitted to practice in the District of Columbia.

Agent called at the office of Mr. John Paul Ernest, Chairman of the Bar Examination Committee of the District, Tower Building, 14th and K. Streets, N. W., and interviewed his secretary, Miss A. Newell, who stated that Mr. Ernest is presently confined to his home because of illness and that while she had possession of the records of persons who have successfully passed the District of Columbia Bar Examination given in June, 1935, yet she did not have present possession of the list of all individuals who had taken such examination, this list having been loaned to Judge Given who, at the present time, is also confined to his home by illness. However, Miss Newell stated that this list would again be in her possession after September 23, 1935, and will be available at that time.

Applicant has no record at the Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C.

Inquiry at Stones Mercantile Agency, 1415 H. Street, N. W., failed to disclose any record concerning applicant.

Special Agent L. G. Healey made the following investigation at Washington, D. C.

Agent interviewed Miss A. Newell, secretary to Mr. John Paul Ernest, Chairman of the Bar Examination Committee of the District of Columbia, Tower Building, who stated that the only information she possessed was a record of those who successfully passed the June 1935 D. C. Bar Examination but that information as to those who took such examination was in the possession of Judge Ralph Given.

Agent interviewed Mrs. Ralph Given who after an examination of the records stated that the applicant had taken the June examination but had failed to pass same.

Agent interviewed Captain M. Collins, No. 7 Police Precinct, Washington, D. C., who stated that he has known the applicant for about five years; that he went to Catholic University from which he graduated, and that he also graduated from the law school of the same university; that the applicant's father and mother were dead; that his home was in Pennsylvania; and that it was his impression that the boy had been left a little estate and had come to Washington and attended the University. Mr. Collins further stated that applicant was a friend of his daughter who had attended Trinity College; that the applicant kept company with his daughter for a period of about two years until the death of his daughter; that the applicant is an associate of his, Mr. Collins', children and that he frequently calls at the house; that the boy is a clean cut young fellow of fine character and very well liked and respected; and that he highly recommended the applicant for the position sought.

Agent interviewed Mr. Horchow, personnel manager of the Works Project Administration, Washington, D. C., who stated that the applicant has been employed there for about four weeks; that he is classified as a messenger and has worked nights in charge of the information desk handling all telephone calls seeking information and is also in charge of stock supplies; that he considers the applicant an intelligent, industrious, conscientious worker; and that he had been forced to classify applicant as a messenger in order to enable him to secure employment in the W.P.A., but that he feels applicant is too intelligent for that classification. He further stated that the applicant has done excellent work and that he highly recommended him for the position sought. Mr. Horchow stated that it was not his policy to recommend employees unless they had fully demonstrated their ability by their work but that in this case he unhesitatingly did so.

Agent was unable to locate Mr. Walter Sharoka for whom the applicant is alleged to have been employed as a plumber's helper for two summer seasons and was unable to find Mr. Sharoka after an examination of the Washington, D. C. Directory for 1932, 1933, 1934 and 1935.

The records of the Chief Clerk's Office, Federal Bureau of Investigation, revealed that there is a Special Agent J. E. Dunn located at Los Angeles, California and a Special Agent F. S. Dunn at Dallas, Texas. No undeveloped leads are being set out at this time as it is not known which Dunn is intended.

The records of the Metropolitan Police Department disclosed no criminal record on applicant.

The records at Stone's Mercantile Agency disclosed no credit rating on applicant.

Agent interviewed Reverend Father Schmitz, 401 Michigan Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C., treasurer of the Sulpician Seminary, 401 Michigan Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C. Father Schmitz stated that he has known the applicant about six years; that the applicant attended the Catholic University from which he graduated with an A. B. degree, and that applicant graduated from the Catholic University Law School last June; that while attending college and while attending Law School the applicant was employed by the Seminary and for remuneration received his room and board in addition to $40.00 per month; that applicant kept the records and accounts of the Seminary, handled telephone calls and received visitors; that at present the applicant was employed in the W.P.A. Reverend Father further stated that the applicant's father was dead; that while attending the University the applicant had kept company with a young girl, a student at Trinity College and that it was his understanding that they had planned to be married but that the girl whom the Father considered a fine type of girl suddenly dropped dead about two years ago; that the applicant is still a weekly visitor to the parents of the young girl and that they have been practically father and mother to the applicant. Father Schmitz further stated that the applicant's scholastic standing while attending the university and law school was excellent; that the applicant was very much interested in intramural sports at the University; that his work at the Seminary was most satisfactory; that the applicant was a very good mixer and possessed a quiet, pleasing personality, was conscientious, willing to work at all times, even though such would greatly inconvenience him; that the applicant was honest, trustworthy; and that he, Father Schmitz, highly recommended the applicant for the position sought.

MISCELLANEOUS

Other persons interviewed

Spoke highly of applicant.

Acquainted with Special Agents

Fitzsimons and Frank (Fred) Dunn

Agent Fitzsimons considered applicant of good character and reputation, but knows nothing concerning his scholastic attainments or ability for the position sought. Special Agent F.S. Dunn does not recall applicant.

Indebted Catholic University,

This note was due October 1, 1935. No other information obtained.

Personal interview with Inspector Quinn.

Reports that applicant has a good personal appearance, approach and personality; is steady in poise; average in speech; answers general questions definitely;

studied Federal Procedure in law school; appears resourceful; may possibly have executive ability; and is likely to develop; however he has fair assurance; is average in tact; and has had no investigative experience. Mr. Quinn states that applicant seems to be mentally alert, aggressive, and wide awake; he has had rather a hard time securing his education and apparently has overcome many obstacles; he is an outspoken young chap; would be the sort of individual who would show gradual development in the service and within a short time would be better than an average Agent with the possibility that he possesses latent executive ability.

Dear Sir:

I desire to advise you that the Bureau has received from the Public Health Service the report covering your physical examination taken by you on December 6, 1935 at Washington, D. C.

From a review of the physical report in question it is noted that you have no defects of any pathological importance.

The dental examiner, however, advises prophylaxis, treatment for gingivitis, filling of several teeth, and extraction of two teeth.

It is suggested that appropriate corrective measures be taken by you concerning the treatment above suggested and that the Bureau be advised.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: Class of New Special Agents
December 2 to March 7, 1936.

2-2-Long

The following is submitted as a preliminary report for your guidance in assigning the members of the current training school class for new Special Agents to their first offices of assignment. Special Agent (A) Raymond J. Wagner is the only Accountant in the class.

DURWARD E. BAERH

Age, 26; Marital Status, Single; is an attorney; Legal residence, Dickinson, North Dakota; Office preference - Salt Lake, Aberdeen, Butte.

Very intelligent; gentlemanly; good personality and appearance; quietly aggressive; rather good judgment; is determined; neat and well-mannered; his greatest need is to get experience in meeting people. It is believed that he can work in even a large office in any part of the country.

ALBERT C. BISE

Age, 32; Marital status, Single; is an attorney; Legal residence, Seattle; Office preference - Portland, Butte, Los Angeles.

This Agent is intelligent, but a little slow of grasp; he is hesitant and does not dominate a conversation easily; he is too cautious; has reasonably good judgment; road work would do him good; he shows possibilities of being able to develop satisfactorily; a smaller more rural office is recommended.

JAMES W. CANNON

Age, 26; Marital status, Married; is an attorney; Legal residence, Florence, South Carolina; Office preference - None.

Is somewhat too cautious but is intelligent and otherwise is possessed of good judgment; is a good mixer with his class members but occasionally is too reserved with others. He is conscientious and has above average prospects. It is recommended that his first Special Agent in Charge be a "driver" - preferably in the West or Southwest.

February 20, 1936.

ROBERT L. FLANDERS

Age, 27; Marital status, Single; Legal residence, Seattle; is an attorney; Office preference, Portland, Butte, Nashville.

After three men were recently dropped from this class, this Agent seemed to adopt an inferiority complex attitude; otherwise, he is quiet, solid, substantial and dependable; has very good judgment but apparently is in need of some element of encouragement. He makes a reasonably good appearance and is able to meet people very well. His greatest weakness at present is a lack of "punch". It is recommended that his office be average size or smaller and that his Agent in Charge be fast in physical and mental agility.

FREDERICK A. FLETCHER

Age, 27; Marital status, Single; Legal residence, Aberdeen; is an attorney; Office preference - Aberdeen.

This employee is above average in his class; has a good personality and appearance; good sense of balance; appears to be a good worker at times and then gives an indication toward having a tendency to laziness. He needs an Agent in Charge who will drive him. It is believed he can operate successfully in any office in the country but preferably an office where the Agent in Charge is very aggressive.

WILLIAM T. HORNADAY

Age, 26; Marital status, Single; Legal residence, Richmond, Indiana; is an attorney; Office preference - Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville.

Both smart and "smart-alecky" and is always inclined to show off; at Quantico he attired himself in spurs and high school medals; has a prep school ego. At the same time he has a bright mentality, is quick to understand, has acquired excellent knowledge, but is inclined to try to put his own ideas over among the other members of the class and has grown to be the most unpopular member of the class. His Agent in Charge needs to be hard-boiled. The mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee seem to beckon him.

February 20, 1936.

LEO L. LAUGHLIN

Age, 25; Marital status, Single; is an attorney; Legal residence, Girardville, Pennsylvania; Office preference - Trenton, Phoenix, Portland.

This employee is well liked by his class; has a good appearance and personality; is tactful; has a good sense of humor; is somewhat above average in his class. It is believed he will do well in any office - preferably, however, not New York.

EDWARD G. O'BRIEN

Age, 29; Marital status, Single; is an attorney; Legal residence, Camden, New Jersey; Office preference - Chicago, New York.

This Agent studies hard but is required to study hard because he is lacking in a quickness of grasp. He stays at home most of the time digging in and in spite of the fact that he is a slow thinker, he does have a rather alert sense of humor. He is of the "draft horse" type and it is believed that he would operate best to begin with in a Metropolitan area, but an office where his Agent in Charge makes quick decisions and expects prompt action would probably be a good training ground for him.

JOHN F. PRIOR

Age, 25; Marital status, Single; is an attorney; Legal residence, New York City; Office preference - New York, Trenton, Los Angeles.

This Agent is above average in the class; is a little "cagey"; has a "poker face"; meets people rather well; is not a police type and seems more adapted to the surroundings of a concert hall - yet his attitude is that of a big city cynic. It is believed he needs development in a rural territory and I believe that he possesses a capacity for development.

H. ALLEN SMITH

Age, 27; Marital status, Married; is an attorney, Legal residence, Los Angeles; Office preference - Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago.

This is a good man with good prospects. He possesses forcefulness, has a good head and asserts himself well. He was recently married and this may account for his clock watching tendencies during class sessions but otherwise he has a serious attitude toward his work and it is believed that he has real ability. I think he would get along satisfactorily in any office of the Bureau.

February 20, 1936.

RAYMOND J. WAGNER (A)

Age, 34; Marital status, Separated; Legal residence, Brooklyn; Office preference - New York, Buffalo, Trenton.

This employee is an Accountant. He appears to be somewhat awkward physically; he is not particularly aggressive; he will need plenty of time to work on a problem to begin with and his first Special Agent in Charge needs to possess the quality of patience with new men and, at the same time, he should have determination and push in order to drive Wagner out of his ~~slow~~ mannerisms and ways. It is believed that these qualifications for a Special Agent in Charge should be borne in mind and, wherever found, Agent Wagner might properly be sent to such an office regardless of the size or location.

PERCY WYLY

Age, 26; Marital status, Single; Legal residence, Tahlequah, Oklahoma; is an attorney; Office preference - None.

I consider this man the outstanding man in the class. He is intelligent - quick mentally and physically; presents an excellent appearance and has a good personality; is sufficiently reserved but nevertheless a good mixer; he is aggressive and follows his ideas through to a logical conclusion. I believe he will develop fast. He may have prospects of developing along administrative lines. I think he will develop satisfactorily in any office.

Respectfully,

H. H. Clegg.

Memo. for the Director

March 10, 1936.

Agent Laughlin is a good man with average or slightly better than average prospects. He is sincere, makes a good impression, is well-assured, is quiet but aggressive, has a sense of humor, was well liked in his class, was tactful, alert, amenable to discipline, and attentive. He applied himself well and should develop into a good Special Agent within a comparatively short time.

During the course of the limited physical training, the observations made of him were that he was good in sense of team work, enthusiasm, coordination of mind and muscle, energy, physical condition and physique and fair in poise and sense of responsibility.

Respectfully,

H. H. Gregg.

Division of Investigation

U. S. Department of Justice

April 13, 1936.

Director,
Federal Bureau of Investigation,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

The following constitutes the usual thirty day efficiency report on Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin, who reported to this office on March 9th last, from the Training School at Washington, D. C.

The work of Agent Laughlin during the period of his assignment to the Boston Office has been satisfactory, considering the fact that he has been out of the Training School only thirty days. This employee appears to take intense interest in his work, is thoroughly loyal and conscientious and seems to possess considerably more aggressiveness than does the average Agent just out of Training School. In my judgment he bears the ear-marks of one who will develop with proper supervision and experience into a better than average Agent.

This Agent to date has not handled any particularly involved matters but has been assigned to the general run of cases involving violations of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, White Slave Traffic Act, Impersonations of Government Officers, Theft of Government Property, and a number of miscellaneous (classification 62) cases, all of which he has handled satisfactorily. His work at the present time does not require any more supervision than would be expected of a newly appointed Agent.

Agent Laughlin dictates with fair rapidity and is capable of satisfactorily preparing rough draft reports on the typewriter. He is continuing to receive training in the use of Bureau firearms and technical equipment and is qualified as a marksman in the use of a pistol. He is qualified to operate an automobile.

To date I have not observed anything about this employee indicative of the fact that he may possess ability for executive or administrative work.

APR 17 1936

Very truly yours,

C. D. McKEAN,
Special Agent in Charge.

REMARKS

This Agent reported to the Boston Office March 9, 1936, from Training School in Washington. SAC McKean states that for this reason he has graded this Agent quite low, although his grades should not be construed as reflecting upon the Agent's ability. McKean states this Agent has taken hold of his assignments in good shape and is applying himself closely to his work. He is intensely interested and thoroughly loyal and conscientious. He is qualified in the use of firearms and technical equipment and can drive an automobile. He has not as yet made any appearance in court. McKean believes he possesses the qualifications to make contacts readily, and that with proper supervision and training, he will develop into somewhat better than an average Agent.

Mr. Clegg in a memorandum concerning the trainees attending the class from December 2, 1935, to March 7, 1936, states that Laughlin was well liked by the class, has a good appearance and personality, is tactful, has a good sense of humor, and is somewhat above the average in his class. He states further that he is quiet but aggressive, alert, and amenable to discipline, and should develop into a good Special Agent within a comparatively short time.

Mr. McKean in a thirty day report submitted under date of April 13, 1936, states this Agent takes an intense interest in his work and seems to possess considerably more aggressiveness than does the average Agent just out of Training School; and that he bears the earmarks of one who will develop with proper supervision and experience into a better than average Agent.

Consider carefully these definitions, keep them in mind when rating, and compare the employee with all others in the same position for the entire service:

INFERIOR (0-59%).....EXCEPTIONALLY POOR performance of duty; EXCEPTIONALLY LACKING in qualification considered.

UNSATISFACTORY (60-74%)...Duty NOT performed AS WELL AS SHOULD BE EXPECTED; not satisfactory; DECIDEDLY below standard.

FAIR (75-84%).....Work ORDINARILY satisfactory; NOT OUTSTANDING.

GOOD (85-92%).....Duty performed in an EFFICIENT MANNER; qualifications UP TO STANDARD and ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY.

EXCELLENT (93-100%).....Duty performed in HIGHLY EFFICIENT MANNER; qualified to a PREEMINENT DEGREE.

To what degree has he exhibited the following qualifications? Consider him in comparison with others in the same position for the entire service:

	GRADE	RELATIVE WEIGHT	TOTAL
KNOWLEDGE: Extent of information concerning all duties of his position; ability to analyze cases; practical application of intelligence and educational training; readiness of comprehension	75	7	525
JUDGMENT: Common sense; ability to think clearly and arrive at logical conclusion; tact	80	4	320
INITIATIVE: Trait of beginning needed work or taking appropriate action on own responsibility in absence of orders	75	1	75
FORCE: Aggressiveness; faculty of performing work with vigor and resolution	85	1	85
INDUSTRY: Physical activity; application to work; health; energy	85	1	85

ATTITUDE TOWARD WORK: Attention to duty; loyalty to the service; amenability to discipline; dependability	90	1	90
EXECUTIVE CAPACITY: Executive ability; leadership; capacity to direct, control, and influence others in proper performance of duties	75	1	75
TOTAL (divide by 20)			1580

In arriving at the above rating for an employee, consider each of the ten qualifications separately. In the column headed "Grade" give a separate rating between 0 and 100% for each qualification, as explained at the beginning of the sheet under definitions of Inferior, Unsatisfactory, Fair, Good, and Excellent. Then multiply each separate grade given in each separate qualification by the respective number indicated in the column headed "Relative Weight." Extend the figure obtained for each separate qualification into the column headed "Total." Add all the figures in the column headed "Total" and divide this sum by 20 to arrive at the final rating.

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Agent Laughlin reported at the Boston Office March 9th, last, from the training school at Washington. It will be noted that I have graded this Agent 75 in knowledge, 80 in judgment and 75 in initiative. These grades should not be construed as reflecting upon this Agent's ability. On the contrary these grades rarely indicate his lack of experience in the field work of the Bureau.

Since reporting to this office Agent Laughlin has taken hold in good shape, and is applying himself closely to his work. This Agent is intensely interested in the work, thoroughly loyal and conscientious. I am giving this employee close personal supervision and feel that he will develop with experience into an excellent Agent.

Agent Laughlin dictates with requisite rapidity and appears capable of satisfactorily preparing rough draft reports on the typewriter. He has continued to receive regularly training in the use of the Bureau's firearms and technical equipment and is qualified as a marksman in the use of a pistol. Agent Laughlin drives an automobile. This employee has had no case requiring his appearance in court; therefore I am not informed as to the appearance he would make on the witness stand. It is my judgment that he possesses the qualifications to make contacts readily. He has not been in the service long enough to judge as to ability which he may possess for administrative work.

I feel that with proper supervision and training he will develop into somewhat better than an average Agent.

If deficiencies or disqualifications have been noted under "Remarks," have you brought them to the attention of the employee prior to the rendition of this rating? _____

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Agent Laughlin is a comparatively new Agent, having entered the service approximately eleven months ago. During his assignment to this office he has impressed me quite favorably. He is very aggressive, more so than the average, and has the faculty of performing his work vigorously. His work at the present time requires average supervision. This employee is thoroughly loyal, conscientious and a hard worker.

Agent Laughlin has no knowledge of accounting. To date, this Agent has not been called as a witness and therefore I am not informed as to the impression he would make on the witness stand, but I am inclined to believe that it would be satisfactory.

Agent Laughlin possesses a pleasant personality with the result that he makes contacts readily and is uniformly liked by all those with whom he comes into contact.

This Agent has continued to receive training in the use of the Bureau's technical equipment and firearms and has a workable knowledge of same. He is qualified as a marksman in the use of the revolver. It is the writer's belief that this Agent has not sufficient experience to plan the conduct of a raid, but that he would prove satisfactory in the participation of one.

Agent Laughlin is not a stenographer, but can prepare satisfactory rough draft reports on the typewriter. He dictates with requisite rapidity. This Agent has had no special training in the investigation of antitrust and bankruptcy violations. He operates a car satisfactorily. Thus far, I have observed nothing about him indicative of the fact that he may possess executive or administrative ability.

I regard this Agent as a good Agent, somewhat above the average.

If deficiencies or disqualifications have been noted under "Remarks," have you brought them to the attention of the employee prior to the rendition of this rating?

Re: SPECIAL AGENT LEO L. ^OLAUGHLIN
Special Efficiency Report

Dear Sir:

Since his assignment at this division on February 19, 1937, this Agent has been devoting most of his time to the Bank of the Manhattan Company and U. S. Trust Company bond cases. The files in these cases are voluminous and the facts are complicated and involved. He has voluntarily been spending considerable time reviewing the files at night. On several occasions he has been called on for overtime work in connection with other matters and he has always responded promptly and cheerfully. He makes a neat appearance, is quiet and unassuming in manner, and has a pleasing personality. I believe that he is inclined to be extremely thorough, both in his investigative work and in his reports. Considering his somewhat limited experience, it is believed that he is capable of exercising a satisfactory degree of initiative and judgment in his work.

I believe that he is loyal, dependable and sincere in his efforts, and that he will continue to develop into a good, average, or better than average, Agent.

This employee is a very good Agent. He is above the average, consistent with his experience. He is very energetic, industrious and is always most willing. I believe that in another six months or one year he will be very good timber for consideration for an executive or administrative position.

INSPECTOR FOXNORTH:

During my interview with this employee, he stated that the stenographic situation in Boston was in a delinquent status, which somewhat delayed the work. He appears to have a very good knowledge of his work, is familiar with the cases assigned to him, apparently interested, has a very pleasant personality and from talking to him I believe that he has made some very good contacts. He appears to "know what it is all about". I believe that Laughlin has very definite possibilities of developing into a better than average Agent and he may possibly possess some latent executive and administrative ability. I suggest that he be kept in mind, and when he has a little more experience, he be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate his ability along this line. This young man informed me that he intends to be married in June, and wanted to know what the Bureau's attitude would be if he wrote in requesting leave for that time. I told him that if he wrote to the Director making his request for leave, stating the reason why he wanted it, I was quite sure the Director would, unless some emergency existed, be glad to grant the annual leave desired.

It is noted that Mr. Hickman was not required to take the examination.

The examination given at this conference was of such a type that it was reasonable to expect each employee present to make a grade of 85 per cent or more. It is absolutely imperative that steps be taken by those who occupy supervisory positions in the Bureau in order that they may be sufficiently informed concerning the contents of the Bureau's manuals and its policies so that they can make satisfactory grades on these examinations.

Mr. Whitley states that Agent Laughlin makes a neat appearance, is quiet, unassuming, has a pleasing personality, and is inclined to be extremely thorough in his investigative work and reports. Considering his somewhat limited experience, Mr. Whitley believes he is capable of exercising a fair degree of initiative and judgment in his work. Since his assignment to the New York Office, Agent Laughlin has been devoting most of his time to the Bank of Manhattan case and the United States Trust Company bond cases, National Stolen Property Act cases. He has voluntarily put in considerable overtime and has always responded promptly and cheerfully. SAC Whitley has not observed him testify; he states Laughlin is qualified in the use of firearms; has not observed his typing ability; believes he would function effectively on raids, and states the Agent is qualified to handle automobiles. His dictation and paper work are satisfactory. Mr. Whitley believes he is loyal, dependable, and sincere in his efforts and will continue to develop into a better than average Agent.

Mr. Foxworth, during an inspection of the Boston Office in January of 1937, stated that Agent Laughlin appears to have a very good knowledge of his work, is familiar with the cases assigned to him, is apparently interested, and has a very pleasant personality. Mr. Foxworth believes he has made some very good contacts and states he appears to "know what it is all about". Mr. Foxworth believes he has very definite possibilities of developing into a better than average Agent; may possibly exhibit some latent executive and administrative ability, and recommends that he be kept in mind and with a little more

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Agent Laughlin makes a neat appearance and is quiet and unassuming. He has a pleasing personality. I believe that he is inclined to be extremely thorough, both in his investigative work and in his reports. Considering his somewhat limited experience, it is believed that he is capable of exercising a fair degree of initiative and judgment in his work.

Since his assignment to this office he has been devoting most of his time to the Bank of the Manhattan Company and U. S. Trust Company, National Stolen Property Act cases. The files in these cases are voluminous and the facts are complicated and involved.

He has voluntarily been putting in considerable overtime. On several occasions he has been called upon for overtime work in connection with other matters and he always responded promptly and cheerfully.

I have had no opportunity to hear him testify or to observe his typing ability. He is qualified in the use of firearms, and although I have had no opportunity to observe him, I believe that he would function effectively on raids and similar assignments. He is qualified to handle automobiles. His paper work and dictation are satisfactory.

I believe that he is loyal, dependable and sincere in his efforts, and that he will continue to develop into a better-than-average agent.

Have the contents of this report under the heading "Remarks" been read in full to the employee to whom they relate, and has the employee been informed as to the status reflected on the reverse side of this report, Yes

If deficiencies or disqualifications have been noted under "Remarks," have you brought them to the attention of the employee prior to the rendition of this rating? Yes

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: Administrative Class - Rough Draft Reports..

Each member of the class was furnished with two investigative reports, one of which contained fifteen basic, fundamental and material errors, and the other, fourteen. They were to assume that they were No. 1 men in the office and were Acting Special Agents in Charge during the absence of the SAC. They were to correct the reports and the number of errors found for correction was a basis for the grading of these reports. The errors were later called to their attention and the class members graded their own papers, which were subsequently checked for verification.

There is listed below the number of errors found by each Agent, out of a possible twenty-nine. The percentage made is also listed.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: Administrative School
Beginning May 17, 1937.

The following is my estimate of the various capabilities and qualifications of the members of the above mentioned Administrative School, which is presently in Washington, in the order of what I consider their relative efficiency from an administrative standpoint:

22. L. L. LAUGHLIN. This Special Agent appears to be possessed of somewhat better than average general prospects as a Special Agent, with but limited prospects of being capable of accepting additional responsibility. He seems to be the type who would make a faithful follower, without being possessed of qualities of leadership.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

RE: SUMMARY OF FILE - SPECIAL AGENT LEO L. LAUGHLIN
E.O.D. - 12-2-35
PRESENT SALARY - CAF 10, $3700
LAST INCREASE - JULY 16, 1937

Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin entered on duty at Washington, D. C., on December 2, 1935. He was endorsed by Senator Joseph P. Guffey, Democrat of Pennsylvania, Representative James H. Gildea, Democrat of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Manning Marcus inquired of the Director with reference to this applicant on behalf of a friend.

Mr. Clegg in submitting his memorandum to the Director relative to this Agent during training school period, under date of March 10, 1936, reported that he is a good man with average or slightly better than average prospects, sincere, makes a good impression, well assured, quiet but aggressive, has a sense of humor, well liked in his class, tactful, alert, amenable to discipline and attentive. He applied himself well and Mr. Clegg believed he should develop into a good Special Agent within a comparatively short time.

From observations made during his training period relative to physical training, it was found that this Agent is good in the sense of team work, enthusiasm, coordination of mind and muscle, energy, physical condition and physique and fair in poise and sense of responsibility.

Former SAC McKean of the Boston office on April 13, 1936, in submitting a thirty day report covering this Agent stated that he has taken an intense interest in his work, seems to possess considerably more aggressiveness than average Agent just out of training school. He bears the earmarks of one who will develop with proper supervision and experience into a better than average Agent.

In the semi-annual efficiency period ending March 31, 1936, Agent was given a numerical rating of 79% by SAC McKean. McKean stated in this report that Agent had taken hold of his assignments in good shape and applied himself closely to his work; is intensely interested, thorough, loyal and conscientious; qualified in the use of firearms and technical equipment; drives an automobile. McKean believed he possessed the qualities to make contacts readily and with proper supervision and training would develop into somewhat better than the average Agent.

SEP 20 1937

67-58420-74
W G WBS

September 4, 1937.

In the efficiency report covering the period ending November 1, 1936, this Agent was given an efficiency rating of "Good" by former SAC McKean who reported that he had impressed him quite favorably, was very impressive, performed his work vigorously, thoroughly loyal, conscientious, possessed a pleasing personality, makes contacts readily and is somewhat above the average. McKean at that time believed Agent would be satisfactory for raid duties.

During the inspection of the Boston office from January 6 to January 18, 1937, Inspector Foxworth reports that Agent appears to have a very good knowledge of his work, is familiar with cases assigned to him, apparently interested, has a very pleasing personality and appears to know what it is all about. Inspector Foxworth believed that he had very good prospects and very good possibilities of developing into a better than average Agent and may possess some latent executive and administrative ability. Foxworth suggested that Agent be kept in mind in this regard.

In an efficiency rating report covering the period ending May 1, 1937, SAC Whitley reports that Agent is quiet, unassuming, has a pleasing personality and inclined to be extremely thorough in his investigative work and reports. Considering his somewhat limited experience Whitley believes he is capable of exercising a fair degree of initiative and judgment in his work. He put in considerable overtime work voluntarily while assigned to the Bank of Manhattan case. Whitley believes he would function effectively on raids and that his paper work is satisfactory. He is loyal, dependable, sincere in his efforts and will continue to develop into a better than average Agent.

This Agent attended the Administrative Re-training School beginning May 17, 1937 and was rated fourteenth in a class of twenty-four by Mr. Baughman in generalship, force, conduct on firing line and general knowledge of range procedure with reference to firearms training. He was rated twenty-third in speaking ability. In the review of rough draft reports he was rated seventeenth, detecting twenty of twenty-nine possible errors. He had a composite rating of fifteenth out of twenty-four, the rating being given by Messrs. Nathan, Schilder and Clegg for possibilities of assuming the duties of Special Agent in Charge.

Mr. Clegg reported that this Agent appears to have somewhat better than average general prospects of a Special Agent with but limited prospects of being capable of accepting additional responsibility. He seems to be the type who would make a faithful follow^{er}, without being possessed of qualities of leadership.

During the recent inspection of the New York office in June, 1937, Inspector Ladd reported that this Agent is possessed of a very good personality, an extremely rapid thinker, presents a good appearance, and is capable of conducting a very thorough investigation. Inspector Ladd suggested an increase in salary and also that this Agent be considered for possible use in a supervisory capacity.

With reference to the ability of Agents of the New York office to dictate, as reported by Inspectors Ladd and Foxworth, this Agent was rated forty-ninth out of fifty.

Under date of June 9, 1937, the Director in a memorandum to Mr. Tolson stated that on that date he had interviewed this Agent and found that he presented a good appearance and seems to be interested in his work.

RE: SUMMARY OF FILE - SPECIAL AGENT LEO L. LAUGHLIN
E.O.D. - 12-2-35
PRESENT SALARY - CAF 10, $3700
LAST INCREASE - JULY 16, 1937

Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin entered on duty at Washington, D. C., on December 2, 1935. He was endorsed by Senator Joseph P. Guffey, Democrat of Pennsylvania, Representative James H. Gildea, Democrat of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Manning Marcus inquired of the Director with reference to this applicant on behalf of a friend.

Mr. Clegg in submitting his memorandum to the Director relative to this Agent during training school period, under date of March 10, 1936, reported that he is a good man with average or slightly better than average prospects, sincere, makes a good impression, well assured, quiet but aggressive, has a sense of humor, well liked in his class, tactful, alert, amenable to discipline and attentive. He applied himself well and Mr. Clegg believed he should develop into a good Special Agent within a comparatively short time.

From observations made during his training period relative to physical training, it was found that this Agent is good in the sense of team work, enthusiasm, coordination of mind and muscle, energy, physical condition and physique and fair in poise and sense of responsibility.

Former SAC McKean of the Boston office on April 13, 1936, in submitting a thirty day report covering this Agent stated that he has taken an intense interest in his work, seems to possess considerably more aggressiveness than average Agent just out of training school. He bears the ear-marks of one who will develop with proper supervision and experience into a better than average Agent.

In the semi-annual efficiency period ending March 31, 1936, Agent was given a numerical rating of 79% by SAC McKean. McKean stated in this report that Agent had taken hold of his assignments in good shape and applied himself closely to his work; is intensely interested, thorough, loyal and conscientious; qualified in the use of firearms and technical equipment; drives an automobile. McKean believed he possessed the qualities to make contacts readily and with proper supervision and training would develop into somewhat better than the average Agent.

PT

September 4, 1937.

In the efficiency report covering the period ending November 1, 1936, this Agent was given an efficiency rating of "Good" by former SAC McKean who reported that he had impressed him quite favorably, was very impressive, performed his work vigorously, thoroughly loyal, conscientious, possessed a pleasing personality, makes contacts readily and is somewhat above the average. McKean at that time believed Agent would be satisfactory for raid duties.

During the inspection of the Boston office from January 6 to January 18, 1937, Inspector Foxworth reports that Agent appears to have a very good knowledge of his work, is familiar with cases assigned to him, apparently interested, has a very pleasing personality and appears to know what it is all about. Inspector Foxworth believed that he had very good prospects and very good possibilities of developing into a better than average Agent, and may possess some latent executive and administrative ability. Foxworth suggested that Agent be kept in mind in this regard.

In an efficiency rating report covering the period ending May 1, 1937, SAC Whitley reports that Agent is quiet, unassuming, has a pleasing personality and inclined to be extremely thorough in his investigative work and reports. Considering his somewhat limited experience Whitley believes he is capable of exercising a fair degree of initiative and judgment in his work. He put in considerable overtime work voluntarily while assigned to the Bank of Manhattan case. Whitley believes he would function effectively on raids and that his paper work is satisfactory. He is loyal, dependable, sincere in his efforts and will continue to develop into a better than average Agent.

This Agent attended the Administrative Re-training School beginning May 17, 1937 and was rated fourteenth in a class of twenty-four by Mr. Baughman in generalship, force, conduct on firing line and general knowledge of range procedure with reference to firearms training. He was rated twenty-third in speaking ability. In the review of rough draft reports he was rated seventeenth, detecting twenty of twenty-nine possible errors. He had a composite rating of fifteenth out of twenty-four, the rating being given by Messrs. Nathan, Schilder and Clegg for possibilities of assuming the duties of Special Agent in Charge.

Mr. Clegg reported that this Agent appears to have somewhat better than average general prospects of a Special Agent with but limited prospects of being capable of accepting additional responsibility. He seems to be the type who would make a faithful follow^{er} without being possessed of qualities of leadership.

During the recent inspection of the New York office in June, 1937, Inspector Ladd reported that this Agent is possessed of a very good personality, an extremely rapid thinker, presents a good appearance, and is capable of conducting a very thorough investigation. Inspector Ladd suggested

Dear Sir:

In connection with the raids at Atlantic City, you will recall that Special Agent Leo Laughlin was bitten on the hand by one of the inmates of a house of prostitution, which inmate was later found to be suffering from four plus syphilis, according to examination made by the State Board of Health at Trenton.

Please be advised that after waiting the appropriate length of time, a blood test was given to Special Agent Leo Laughlin by Dr. Gottlieb, and today I have been advised by him that the report is negative. Of course, we were very happy to receive this information and I have advised Mr. Laughlin accordingly.

REMARKS

SAC Vetterli reports Agent makes a very good appearance and has established cordial relations with the Assistant United States Attorneys, which has required considerable tact and judgment. Agent is forceful, vigorous, displays considerable energy, and his reports are accurate and well prepared. Mr. Vetterli states Agent begins to display some qualities of leadership and has some latent executive ability, is a fair typist, qualified in the use of firearms and could be used in a dangerous assignment. He is a qualified automobile driver, his dictation is up to standard, and Mr. Vetterli's only criticism is that he has not put in his share of overtime, averaging only 55 hours per month during the past four months, which is decidedly below average. When he can enthuse in his work to the extent that he finds himself voluntarily putting in overtime because of his intense interest in his work, that same interest and enthusiasm will carry him to a higher plane, where he can possibly be given consideration for some minor executive position. Mr. Vetterli believes this Agent has a future ahead of him if he continues to develop. Agent impresses him as being more mentally alert and nimble minded than some of the men and is above average in that respect.

At the conclusion of the administrative school ending in June, 1937 Agent was rated 11th in speaking ability, 17th in rough draft reports, 15th in ability to perform duties of a Special Agent in Charge, and 14th in range generalship, out of a class of 24. Mr. Clegg on June 7, 1937 reported Agent possesses somewhat better than average prospects as an Agent but with limited prospects of being capable of accepting additional responsibility. He would make a faithful follower, without being possessed of qualities of leadership.

During the June, 1937 inspection of the New York office, Mr. Ladd reported Agent possesses a very good personality, is a rapid thinker and capable of conducting a very thorough investigation. Mr. Ladd suggests an increase in salary and consideration for possible use in a supervisory capacity. Agent was rated 49th out of 50 Agents in dictating ability during that inspection.

On June 9, 1937 the Director by memorandum advised he interviewed this Agent, who presented a good appearance and seemed interested in his work.

In connection with the raids at Atlantic City, this Agent was bitten on the hand by one of the inmates of a house of prostitution, which inmate was later found suffering from four plus syphilis. A blood test was given Agent, and on September 25, 1937, the Bureau was advised by SAC Vetterli that the report was negative.

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Special Agent Laughlin makes a very good appearance. In the time he has been assigned in the New York Office, he has established very cordial relations with the various Assistant U.S. Attorneys, which has required considerable tact and good judgment. Most of his work in the past few months has revolved about the Bank of the Manhattan Company case. He is vigorous, forceful and displays considerable energy. From my limited observation of him, I have received a very favorable impression. His reports generally are accurate and well prepared and I believe that he is dependable and loyal and is interested in his work.

He of course can stand further training in the investigation of various types of cases owing to the fact that his experience to a degree has been limited. He begins to display some qualities of leadership and I believe there is some latent executive ability.

I have not had an opportunity to hear him testify. I understand he is a fair typist. He is qualified in the use of firearms but can acquire more proficiency in this respect. While I have never seen him on a raid or dangerous assignment, I frankly would not hesitate to assign him to any such situation. He is qualified to drive an automobile and I understand his paper work and dictation are generally up to standard. I believe this young man has a future ahead of him if he continues to develop and obviates the only criticism that I have to make of him, namely, that he has not put in his share of overtime - for example, during the last four months he has only put in an average of fifty-five hours per month overtime which is decidedly below the average. When he can enthuse in his work to the extent that he finds himself voluntarily putting in overtime because of his real, intense interest in his work, then that same interest and enthusiasm will carry him to a higher plane where he can possibly be given consideration for some minor executive position to prove his real worth. However, it is essential that he acquire this enthusiasm and same is being, of course, brought to his attention.

However, his work has been good. He impresses me as being more mentally alert and nimble-minded than some of the men and is above average in this respect.

Have the contents of this report under the heading "Remarks" been read in full to the employee to whom they relate, and has the employee been informed as to the status reflected on the reverse side of this report? Yes

THE FBI PLEDGE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Humbly recognizing the responsibilities entrusted to me, I do vow that I shall always consider the high calling of law enforcement to be an honorable profession, the duties of which are recognized by me as both an art and a science. I recognize fully my responsibilities to defend the right, to protect the weak, to aid the distressed, and to uphold the law in public duty and in private living. I accept the obligation in connection with my assignments to report facts and to testify without bias or display of emotion, and to consider the information, coming to my knowledge by virtue of my position as a sacred trust, to be used solely for official purposes. To the responsibilities entrusted to me of seeking to prevent crime, of finding the facts of law violations and of apprehending fugitives and criminals, I shall give my loyal and faithful attention and shall always be equally alert in striving to acquit the innocent and to convict the guilty. In the performance of my duties and assignments, I shall not engage in unlawful and unethical practices but shall perform the functions of my office without fear, without favor, and without prejudice. At no time shall I disclose to an unauthorized person any fact, testimony, or information in any pending matter coming to my official knowledge which may be calculated to prejudice the minds of existing or prospective judicial bodies either to favor or to disfavor any person or issue. While occupying the status of a law enforcement officer or at any other time subsequent thereto, I shall not seek to benefit personally because of my knowledge of any confidential matter which has come to my attention. I am aware of the serious responsibilities of my office and in the performance of my duties I shall, as a minister, seek to supply comfort, advice and aid to those who may be in need of such benefits; as a soldier, I shall wage vigorous warfare against the enemies of my country, of its laws, and of its principles; and as a physician, I shall seek to eliminate the criminal parasite which preys upon our social order and to strengthen the lawful processes of our body politic. I shall strive to be both a teacher and a pupil in the art and science of law enforcement. As a lawyer, I shall acquire due knowledge of the laws of my domain and seek to preserve and maintain the majesty and dignity of the law; as a scientist, it will be my endeavor to learn all pertinent truth about accusations and complaints which come to my lawful knowledge; as an artist, I shall seek to use my skill for the purpose of making each assignment a masterpiece; as a neighbor, I shall bear an attitude of true friendship and courteous respect to all citizens; and as an officer, I shall always be loyal to my duty, my organization, and my country. I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, and will constantly strive to cooperate with and promote cooperation between all regularly constituted law enforcement agencies and officers in the performance of duties of mutual interest and obligation.

RE: THIRTY-DAY EFFICIENCY REPORT -
SPECIAL AGENT LEO L. LAUGHLIN.

Dear Sir:

Following is the thirty-day efficiency report of Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin, who reported to this office on January 9, 1938.

Agent Laughlin has been at Washington attending Re-training School, since January 31, 1938.

Agent Laughlin has been designated as Number One Man in this office. He presents a very good personal appearance, and he makes a good impression upon people with whom he comes in contact. From my observation of his work during the time he has been at this office, I find he has a good knowledge of the Bureau's activities, and has good judgment. I have observed him show initiative on many occasions.

His paper work is very good and his attitude towards his work is excellent. He requires very little or no supervision.

I have not had sufficient time to observe him to comment upon his qualifications as a Number One Man. From my very limited observation of his work in that capacity, he seems to be well qualified to act as Number One Man. He is forceful and appears to have the ability to supervise others.

Agent Laughlin has read this thirty-day efficiency report and has placed his initials on the bottom hereof.

Very truly yours

Dear Sir:

The following is the record of the grades made by you during the course of the recent Retraining School held in Washington, D. C., which you attended:

Written Examinations

First:	98

Crime Statistics Test:	84
Crime Scene Searches:	Good
Practical Work in Gymnasium:	Good

Firearms Training

Practical Pistol Course:	62.8

It is necessary that a grade of eighty-five per cent or more be made on the written examinations and the other tests which were given during the school in order for the grade to be considered satisfactory.

In firearms training, the passing grade for all weapons is sixty per cent, with the exception of the Practical Pistol Course, for which the passing grade is fifty per cent. Any grade made in the use of firearms which does not meet with these requirements is considered unsatisfactory.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

April 28, 1938

Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

On April 26, 1938 Special Agent John W. Wolf came to me and stated that he wished to complain about the way Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin, #1 Man in this office, had spoken to him on the morning of that date, when he was accompanying him on an investigation.

Agent Wolf stated that Laughlin abused him and called him foul names and that conditions were such that he felt he could not continue on the investigation with Laughlin. I requested Wolf to submit a memorandum to me setting forth all the facts in this matter.

Upon the return of Agent Laughlin to the office, approximately one hour afterwards, I informed him of the charges made against him by Agent Wolf and requested him to submit to me a complete memorandum setting forth all the facts in this matter.

I instructed Wolf and Laughlin they were not to discuss this matter among themselves or with anybody in the office.

MAY 12 1938 Insofar as it was necessary for me to proceed to Atlantic City on official business, on the afternoon of April 26th and remain overnight, I did not have an opportunity to question Laughlin or Wolf regarding the contents of their memoranda until the afternoon of April 27th.

67-58420-91 These memorandums submitted by both of these Agents were indefinite and contained many generalities. On my return from Atlantic City on the afternoon of April 27th, I held a conference with Wolf and Laughlin and went over the details of the charges and counter-charges as contained in their memorandums and requested both of them to submit revised memorandums containing more definite information on this matter.

At the time of this conference, I told both of them that this matter was very serious; that it involved the efficiency and welfare of the Bureau insofar as it was a serious reflection on the conduct of the personnel. I told them that such altercations would not be tolerated by me.

In the presence of Agent Laughlin, I informed Agent Wolf that he did the right thing in immediately reporting this matter to me. I told Laughlin that his use of foul and abusive language to Agent Wolf could not be excused. Agent Laughlin denied that he used foul language but he did say, that he definitely told Wolf that he was a "square-head" and that he didn't know what he was doing.

I told Laughlin that it was not his place to criticize the conduct of Wolf; that I was the only one in this office who had the authority to reprimand an employee for his inefficiency or to comment on his lack of ability.

I informed both of these men that bickerings between employees and inability for employees to cooperate with each other in performing the Bureau's work, seriously reflected upon their ability as Special Agents.

Agent Wolf is a comparatively new Agent in the Service, he is young but appears to be enthusiastic and since the time he has been assigned to this office, which is approximately two weeks, he appears to have earnestly desired to perform his duties to the best of his ability. I do not think that he is at fault in the situation except for his lack of judgment in insisting that the automobiles be charged prior to covering the investigation on which Laughlin and Wolf were assigned.

Letter to the Director

There would hardly be time to keep an appointment in Hoboken, New Jersey, if the Agents left the garage in Newark at 9:20 A.M., let alone make a stop to change automobiles at another garage, but this also brings up the point that since the investigation that both of these Agents were going on was assigned to Laughlin - he should have left the office earlier than 9:00 o'clock to keep an appointment in Hoboken at 9:30 A.M. in the morning.

Agent Wolf signed in the office on April 26, 1938 at 8:00 A.M. and Agent Laughlin at 8:55 A.M. Agent Wolf states that he was available at 8:00 A.M. to go out on this investigation. It had previously been arranged between Laughlin and Wolf that they would leave at 9:00 A.M., according to Laughlin's statement, which Wolf agrees is true.

For the Bureau's information, the particular investigation which both of these Agents were to cover involved the Lenap case. The day before they had interviewed the wife of an individual who was seen in the vicinity of the payoff designated by the kidnapers in New Rochelle, New York. The interview with this man was to be conducted under pretext and prior to covering this lead, Agent Laughlin had spoken to me the previous day and suggested that he have an Agent with him at the time, inasmuch as there was a possibility that this man might be involved in the case. Agent Wolf and Laughlin had made an effort to contact this man the day previous but his wife had been antagonistic, and for this reason, they were endeavoring to contact him again the morning of April 26th. However, prior to covering this lead, Agent Laughlin also had an investigative lead to interview a Mr. Hansen in a W.S.T.A. case and a previous appointment had been made to interview Mr. Hansen at 9:30 A.M. after which Laughlin and Wolf planned to immediately cover the Lenap lead. Both of these leads were in the same vicinity.

Letter to the Director

Agent Laughlin stated that the reason he did not come back to the office with Agent Wolf, when Wolf suggested that they see me about their difficulties, was because he desired to interview Mr. Hansen if it was at all possible.

Agent Wolf denied in the presence of Agent Laughlin that he referred to me as "Tom", which Laughlin states in his memorandum he did. For the Bureau's information, the Agents assigned to this office do not call me by my first name and I have discouraged any such procedure insofar as I believe that it does not encourage proper business like procedure in the operation of a Field Office, as the nature of the Bureau's work is such, discipline is absolutely imperative for the proper functioning of a Field Office. No instances of familiarity on official matters, in connection with my position, have occurred before. Agent Wolf is very insistent that he did not refer to me by my first name when he was talking with Laughlin, although Laughlin insists that he did and states that this reference by Wolf to me is a reflection on Wolf's conduct as an Agent.

I have advised both of these Agents that I am submitting their memoranda to the Bureau for appropriate consideration.

The altercations between Agents Wolf and Laughlin, in my opinion, reflects upon the efficiency of this office. I believe that Laughlin is primarily at fault in this matter and in spite of his personal opinion regarding the conduct of Wolf, he should not, at any time, have commented to Wolf regarding his views of Wolf's ability as an Agent. His handling of the situation was bad. He is the #1 Man in this office and because of this he is presumed to have possibilities of developing administrative ability. His conduct in this instance is not indicative of such ability.

Laughlin denies that he has presumed any authority over the personnel of this office because of his designation as #1 Man. He states that he understands his designation as

Letter to the Director

4-28-38

#1 Man means nothing except that he is to act in the place of the Special Agent in Charge, during his absence from the Field Office. I have at no time instructed Agent Laughlin that he had any other duties other than those of a regular Special Agent. My actions have in no way indicated to the personnel of this office that there was anybody else in the Newark Division who had any authority to assume my duties.

After consideration of the matters outlined in the enclosed memoranda, it is my recommendation that Agent Laughlin cannot properly perform the duties of a #1 Man in the Newark Office, insofar as the office can hardly function efficiently when there is ill feeling among the personnel.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE

Pursuant to your instructions, the following memorandum is being submitted concerning the episode which transpired between Agent Wolf and myself on April 26, 1938.

As already explained to you and in consonance with your suggestion, Agent Wolf and the writer were to leave the office at 9:00 o'clock on the morning of April 26th for the purpose of covering a lead in the Lenap Case. Incidental thereto and in accordance with a prior tentative appointment made by the writer in Hoboken, N. J., arrangements were made to interview one Mr. Hansen, 1210 Hudson Street, in connection with a W.S.T.A. case. As a result of a prior contact at the Hansen apartment, Mrs. Hansen had informed that her husband probably would be available for interview around 9:30 A.M. or a little later on the morning of April 26th.

The writer signed out of the office at 9:00 o'clock on this morning and accompanied by Mr. Wolf, proceeded to the garage. While riding downstairs on the elevator, Agent Wolf informed that he had signed out Bureau car #13 but he had to take it over to Grigg's Garage, leave it there for servicing, and pick up another automobile which was supposed to be ready. Upon learning this, I inquired whether this proposed change of cars might not be postponed for the time being, to which Agent Wolf retorted, that you had instructed him to make the swap in automobiles. I did comment that I was positive, "if you had advised Mr. Donegan that we had a tentative appointment in Hoboken for around 9:30, I am sure that he would have allowed you to change the cars upon your return." Nothing further was said at this time concerning this matter.

While enroute to the garage the writer met an individual, named Phil Kenneally, with whom I had attended school in Washington, D. C. I stopped and exchanged pleasantries with Kenneally, introduced Agent Wolf, and proceeded to the garage. This meeting took a few minutes and certainly not in excess of 5 minutes.

Memorandum for the SAC

Upon reaching the garage and noticing the time to be almost 9:20 A.M., I mentioned that the proposed exchange of automobiles was going to take at least 15 minutes and it looked as though we were going to miss Mr. Hansen, in the event that Wolf insisted upon making the exchange of cars at that time. This remark did not seem to have been taken very seriously by Agent Wolf. Between the Washington Terminal Garage and Grigg's Service Station, located at 15 Spring Street, Agent Wolf and myself indulged in usual conversation including several facetious remarks on the part of both individuals. Upon reaching Grigg's Service Station, Agent Wolf left car #13 with the attendant, signed a receipt indicating that car #11 had been serviced and was in a satisfactory condition, then went into the garage office where he occupied himself for a few minutes. During this interval I observed car #11 and upon examining it, noticed that the speedometer had been removed. I called this to the attention of the garage attendant and also went into the inner office and likewise advised Agent Wolf. This incident is being mentioned to point out the fact that the time used in proceeding to the garage, which was obviously wasted, might have been eliminated by a telephone call to the garage to determine whether the Bureau automobile was ready for usage.

Subsequent to leaving Grigg's Service Station, Agent Wolf seemed to be driving aimlessly, as though he did not know where he was going, and cared less. After several blocks of such driving including the passage down a one-way street, the writer definitely called Agent Wolf a "square-head" and requested that he deposit me anywhere, in order that I might return to the garage, obtain a Bureau car, and proceed directly to Hoboken in an attempt to interview Mr. Hansen. Concerning this remark to Agent Wolf, it will be noted that it was made after that Agent arbitrarily insisted upon making the exchange in Bureau automobiles, as well as stalling to such an extent as to indicate that he did not particularly care whether we reached Hoboken in time to keep our appointment. The remark was not made by me, as a Bureau representative, in the sense that I was condemning Wolf for his conduct while on official business but merely as Man to man, by an exasperated individual whose schedule was being needlessly disrupted by another.

At this point, Wolf remarked that "he was going up and tell Tom about the whole thing, and invited me to join him in this report to you." This invitation was refused for the obvious reason that I had still hopes of finding Mr. Hansen at his apartment. In fact, I advised Agent Wolf that he should please himself in the premises and in any event I would speak to you upon my return to the office.

It will be noted that it was exactly 9:40 A.M. when I obtained and signed out a Bureau car from the garage and drove to Hoboken. I arrived there at approximately 10:15 A.M. and spoke with Mrs. Hansen, who advised that her husband had left a short time before Agent's arrival and he was very sorry that he could not wait.

Several remarks reportedly made by myself have been called to my attention. One of these, to the effect that I advised Agent Wolf that when he was working on an assignment with me, he was to take orders from nobody else, not even the SAC, is absolutely false. I never made any such remark to Agent Wolf or to any other Agent since I have been in the Bureau Service. Another remark, to the effect that I was #1 Man in this office and that "he would have to learn who was boss", is equally untruthful.

For record purposes, I absolutely deny that I ever mentioned to any Agent, at any time, that I happened to be #1 Man in this office. This denial is most emphatic, by me, since I am completely aware that a #1 Man is nothing more than a title and carries with it no administrative or supervisory duties. In view of this total awareness of my position as Special Agent, it would seem incredible that I should accuse any other fellow Agent, my co-worker, of "insubordination" as reported by Agent Wolf.

It will be further noted that I have been accused of addressing this Agent with slighting and uncomplimentary remarks since he has arrived at this office. This can best be answered by the fact that I have yet to address Agent Wolf with the possible exception of requesting him to cover one or two leads while I was sitting on the desk, in your absence, and for personal reasons have purposely refrained from indulging in any but casual conversation with this Agent while in the office or on official business. I have accompanied him on several occasions outside of the office, either for lunch or returning to our respective homes in the evening, but anything I may have said on such occasions, was personal.

Should you desire any further information concerning this matter I shall be pleased to give it to you upon request.

Respectfully submitted,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE

On April 25, 1938 the writer was requested by Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin to accompany him on an investigation, to be conducted the following morning, on a case assigned to him, Laughlin, the Lenap case - Newark File 7-76, which the writer agreed to do. Laughlin stated that he had another lead to cover in Hoboken, N. J. and that he had an appointment with a man for around 9:30 the next morning.

The writer arrived at the Field Office at 8:00 A.M. on the morning of April 26th in readiness to leave for Hoboken. Laughlin arrived at about 8:58 A.M. and we signed out about 9:02 A.M. While going down the elevator Laughlin was told by the writer that the Special Agent in Charge had instructed the writer to take car #13 into the Ford Garage and use car #11 which was already there. Laughlin expressed great indignation at this and was told by the writer that it would be a mere matter of minutes to change cars.

Laughlin stated when requested to accompany him on an investigation, Agent should inform anyone else, even the Special Agent in Charge, that he was busy and would be unable to accept any other assignments.

On the way to the garage Laughlin stopped and talked to a friend for several minutes all of which resulted in our arriving at the garage at about 9:20 A.M. During the walk to the garage the writer was advised of the fact that he was just a young and inexperienced Agent, of which the writer is well aware of and that when requested by the #1 Man to do something, he was to do it and no questions asked.

At the Ford Garage we were informed that car #11 was not quite ready so for that reason we continued to use car #13 and started off for Hoboken. We had scarcely driven a block when Laughlin started using foul language and calling the writer a blankety blank name and that the writer would have to learn just who was boss around the office and not talk back to his superiors. At this point the writer informed Laughlin that others didn't consider him such a fool and that he didn't have to stand for such talk, to which Laughlin replied, "you will stand for anything I say and like it."

Laughlin continued to talk in an uncomplimentary manner and ended up by saying that the writer had better not accompany him on this investigation. At this point the writer decided he had better not accompany Laughlin any further and told Laughlin this and asked him to come back to the office and see Mr. Donegan and straighten this matter out before any more friction arose, which Laughlin refused to do.

The writer then returned to the office and reported the above to the Special Agent in Charge who instructed the writer to prepare a memorandum setting forth the above facts.

I had only been in this Field Office a few days when Laughlin started making slighting and uncomplimentary remarks about my capabilities as an Agent. At first, I considered them made in a joking manner and for that reason did not say anything but accepted them in the spirit which I supposed they were given until they became of such a nature that I could not overlook them.

This is the first argument of any sort that I have had since I have been in the Federal Bureau of Investigation and I have always cooperated with my fellow Agents and have been willing to assist them at all times.

I regret that this had to be brought to the attention of the Special Agent in Charge but in view of the above incidents, this was the only means of straightening this misunderstanding between Agent Laughlin and myself.

Respectfully submitted,

Under date of April 28, 1938, under personal and confidential cover, SAC Donegan of the Newark Office reported certain difficulties and misunderstandings had by Special Agents Leo L. Laughlin and John W. Wolf.

From a review of Mr. Donegan's communication, it appears that Special Agent Wolf had reported to the SAC that Agent Laughlin, who incidentally is No. 1 man of the Newark Office, had ridiculed and belittled him when both were assigned on the same investigative matter. SAC Donegan reports that these Agents were assigned to cover a lead in the Lenap case on the morning of April 26, 1938; that prior to the covering of the lead in this case Special Agent Laughlin was desirous of conducting an additional interview with a Mr. Hansen in a WSTA case. The interview for Mr. Hansen was set for 9:30 A.M. Agent Wolf reported to the Newark Office at 8:00 A.M. on the morning of the 26th; Agent Laughlin reported at 8:55 A.M.

On April 25, 1938, SAC Donegan had issued instructions to Agent Wolf to change automobiles before proceeding on these leads. He desired to do this on the morning of the 26th. However, Agent Laughlin was critical in his comments concerning the desire of Agent Wolf to make this necessary change. SAC Donegan points out that Laughlin, knowing the facts in this matter, should have arranged to be in the office before 8:55 A.M., so that the necessary lead could be covered at the previously designated time. Special Agent Wolf, after leaving the office with Special Agent Laughlin, returned before the leads were completed because of the manner in which Laughlin treated him and reported the complete facts to SAC Donegan. Statements submitted by both of these Agents contain conflicting statements of facts.

Briefly, Special Agent Wolf states that he had been requested to accompany Special Agent Laughlin on the aforementioned investigations on the following morning, the request being made on April 25, 1938; that he arrived in the field office at 8:00 A.M. on the 26th and that Laughlin arrived at 8:58 A.M. They signed out at 9:02 A.M. Immediately upon leaving the office, Special Agent Wolf advised Laughlin that the SAC had instructed him to change automobiles. Laughlin expressed great indignation at this; further, Agent Laughlin stated when he requested an Agent to accompany him that Agent should inform anyone else, even the SAC, that he was busy and would be unable to accept any other assignments. On the way to the garage, Laughlin stopped to talk to a friend which further delayed their arrival at the garage in question.

During the walk to the garage, Agent Wolf states he was advised by Agent Laughlin that he was a young and inexperienced Agent and when requested by the No. 1 man to do something he was to do it and no questions were to be asked. Upon leaving the garage Wolf states they had scarcely driven a block when Laughlin started using foul language, calling Wolf foul names, stating to him that he, Wolf, would have to learn who was boss around the office and not to talk back to his superiors. Wolf at that time advised Laughlin that others didn't consider him such a fool and he didn't have to stand for such talk, to which Laughlin replied "You will stand for anything I say and like it." Wolf further relates that Laughlin continued to talk in an uncomplimentary manner and ended up by saying that Agent Wolf had better not accompany him on the investigation. At that time Wolf decided he had better not accompany Laughlin any further, told Laughlin this, and asked him to come back to the office, see Mr. Donegan, and straighten out the matter before any more friction arose. Laughlin refused to return to the office.

Wolf further reports he had only been in the Newark Office a few days when Laughlin started making slighting and uncomplimentary remarks about his capabilities as an Agent; that he, Wolf, considered them made in a joking manner and for that reason did not say anything but accepted them in the spirit in which he believed them to be given until they became of such a nature that he could not overlook them. He states this is the first disagreement of any sort he has had since he has been with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Agent Laughlin, in writing his memorandum to the SAC, states that he signed out of the office at 9:00 A.M. and, accompanied by Special Agent Wolf, proceeded to the garage. While leaving the office, Agent Wolf informed him that he had signed out Bureau car No. 13 but that he had to take it over to Grigg's Garage for servicing and pick up another automobile which was supposed to be ready. Laughlin states that upon learning this he inquired whether the proposed change of cars might not be postponed for the time being to which Agent Wolf in Laughlin's words retorted that the SAC had requested him to make the change in automobiles. Laughlin states that the comment he made at that time which Wolf reports as expressing great indignation was, "If you had advised Mr. Donegan that we had a tentative appointment in Hoboken for around 9:30, I am sure that he would have allowed you to change the cars upon your return." Laughlin states nothing further was said at the time concerning this matter; that enroute to the garage Agents met one Phil Kenneally with whom Laughlin attended school in Washington, D. C. He stopped and exchanged pleasantries with Kenneally, the meeting taking not more than five minutes.

He states they reached the garage at approximately 9:20 A.M. Laughlin again mentioned that the proposed exchange of automobiles was going to take at least 15 minutes and it looked as though he was going to miss his first interview with Mr. Hansen at 9:30; that between garages both Agents indulged in the usual conversation, including several facetious remarks on the part of both individuals. He stated that on arriving at the second garage he, Laughlin, observed that the car they were supposed to take was not in proper repair, concerning which he advised both the garage attendants and Agent Wolf.

After leaving Grigg's Service Station, Agent Wolf, who was driving, seemed to be driving aimlessly, as though he did not know where he was going and cared less. After several blocks of such driving, including passage down a one-way street, he, Laughlin, called Agent Wolf a "squarehead." Laughlin states he then requested that Agent Wolf let him out of the car in order that he, Laughlin, might return to the garage to obtain a Bureau car and proceed directly to Hoboken in an attempt to interview Mr. Hansen in connection with the WSTA case. Laughlin states that he made this remark after Agent Wolf had arbitrarily insisted upon making the change in Bureau automobiles as well as stalling to such an extent as to indicate that he did not particularly care whether they reached Hoboken in time to keep their appointment.

He states that his remark to Wolf was not made by him as a Bureau representative in the sense that he was condemning Wolf for his conduct while on official business, but merely as man to man, by an exasperated individual whose schedule was being needlessly disrupted by another; that at that time Wolf remarked that he was going up and tell Tom about the whole thing. He invited Laughlin to join him in reporting this matter. Laughlin refused the invitation for the obvious reason that he still had hope of completing his interviews. He points out that he finally secured another car at 9:40 A.M., arrived at Hoboken at 10:15 A.M., and missed his interview.

With reference to the statements made by Special Agent Wolf relating to the purported statements made by Laughlin concerning Wolf's taking orders from nobody but Laughlin when working on an assignment with him, Laughlin denies any such statements. He also states that the remarks concerning his being No. 1 man in the Newark Office and that Wolf would have to learn who was boss were equally untruthful. Laughlin denies that he ever mentioned to any Agent at any time that he happened to be No. 1 man in the Newark Office, and further that he is completely aware of the fact that as No. 1 man he has no administrative or supervisory duties. Laughlin further reports that he had been accused of addressing Agent Wolf with slighting and uncomplimentary remarks since Wolf had arrived at the Newark Office. Laughlin states this accusation can best be answered by the fact that he has yet to address Agent Wolf, with the possible exception of requesting him to cover one or two leads while acting as SAC and for personal reasons has refrained from indulging in any but casual conversation with Agent while in the office or on official business.

SAC Donegan reports that this matter was thoroughly gone into by him and both Agents were called to task for this seemingly unnecessary quarrel. Laughlin had been advised that it was not his place to criticize the conduct of Wolf, that the SAC is the only one who has authority to reprimand employees for inefficiency or to comment on their lack of ability. Donegan further reports that the altercations between these Agents in his opinion reflect upon the efficiency of the office. He believes Laughlin is primarily at fault in this matter and in spite of his personal opinion regarding the conduct of Wolf, he, Laughlin, should not have at any time gone to Wolf regarding his views as to Wolf's ability as an Agent. SAC Donegan recommends that Agent Laughlin be removed as No. 1 man in the Newark Office in so far as the office can hardly function efficiently when there is ill feeling among the personnel..

From what can be gathered concerning the conflicting statements in this matter, it appears to me that in the first instance Special Agent Laughlin was at fault in not reporting to the office in sufficient time to have covered his interviews without any great rush and bustle the next morning. His utter disgust with Wolf in driving around Newark before proceeding to Hoboken cannot in my mind be fully justified, inasmuch as Laughlin, an experienced Agent and to whom these cases were assigned could very easily have taken it upon himself to drive the car and proceeded direct to Hoboken without any further delay. No mention is made in the papers forwarded as to whether Agent Wolf was well acquainted with the district in question. Agent Laughlin's alleged comments to Agent Wolf concerning what Wolf should say to any other person on an official matter when assigned to assist him in an investigation and his uncomplimentary remarks, one of which he admits, calling Wolf a "squarehead", do not reflect that he is particularly helpful and tactful in dealing with the Newark personnel. I believe Agent Wolf is to be reprimanded, due to his stubbornness in insisting that a change in automobiles be made when he knew that the interviews were set for 9:30 o'clock in the morning and when he surely knew that only by prompt driving could the trip be made from Newark to Hoboken and the interview conducted.

As to his aimless wandering in the automobile, it may be that Wolf, feeling that Laughlin was responsible both for his on-the-line arrival at the office and stopping to talk to a friend en route for a delay in the interviews, did not particularly concern himself with the fact that they should get to Hoboken immediately.

It is my recommendation that both of these men be transferred from the Newark Office. It is a very undesirable situation to have Agent Wolf remain at the Newark Office should Laughlin remain as No. 1 man. When Laughlin would be acting in charge of the office in the absence of Donegan, it would mean that there would be strained relations between these two individuals and perhaps between their friends. It may be that this Agent, who is fairly new in the Bureau, having gone out to the field on January 17, 1938, may be broken should only he be reprimanded concerning this incident. If the statements made by Wolf were correct, either partially or in their entirety, I do not believe Agent Laughlin has sufficient tact to continue as No. 1 man at this time and recommend that this status be removed.

Respectfully,

W. R. Gavin.

Dear Mr. Hoover:-

Your attention is respectfully directed to the efficiency report recently submitted on me by Special Agent in Charge T. J. DONEGAN of the Newark, New Jersey, Field Division.

For your information, this was the third report drawn up, the other two having been changed after my discussing their contents with the Special Agent in Charge.

At that time, I objected to the stress placed upon the "altercation" with Special Agent J. W. WOLF, which unfortunately and regretfully had occurred a few days previous. Incidentally, this episode was described by MR. DONEGAN, in the presence of Agent WOLF and myself, as a "tempest in a teapot". Therefore, I thought that since this rating supposedly reflected my abilities or disabilities as an agent since coming to the Newark office, it would only be fair to consider my entire record. In response to my objection to this point, as well as to my inquiry as to how I had performed the administrative and other duties entrusted to me, MR. DONEGAN readily admitted that all had been carried out in a highly satisfactory manner, and he had no reason for any adverse criticism.

In view of these facts, it is my opinion that the report submitted does not present a true description of my work and I am taking the liberty of advising of my feelings in the matter.

Assuring you of my continued cooperation and loyalty,
I remain,

Respectfully yours,

L. L. LAUGHLIN,
Special Agent.

REMARKS

SAC Donegan advises that insofar as the work of this Agent is concerned, he would rate him as Good; that he has exhibited administrative ability and Mr. Donegan criticized him for not showing good judgment in allowing his personal views to interfere with his duties during an altercation with Agent Wolf; that in spite of this incident, Mr. Donegan is of the opinion that Laughlin is a good Agent; that he makes a good appearance, has a pleasing personality, has made a number of talks in the District, receiving favorable comments regarding same; that he is loyal to the Bureau, amenable to discipline, has a good knowledge of the Bureau's work, is capable of handling hardened criminals and is qualified for dangerous assignments, is a good automobile driver, qualified in the use of firearms; that he has not had an occasion to hear him testify; that he is intelligent, mentally alert, however, Mr. Donegan believes that he is quick tempered as exemplified by his recent trouble with Agent Wolf and he is of the opinion that this Agent has possibilities for further development but needs further seasoning before he is capable of directing the activities of others.

JUL 25 1938

With reference to the incident between this Agent and Agent Wolf, SAC Donegan reported that he had thoroughly gone into the matter with both Agents and that this Agent had been advised that it was not his place to criticize the conduct of other Agents. SAC Donegan further reported that he believes that this Agent is primarily at fault in this matter and recommended that Agent Laughlin be removed as Number One Man in the Newark Office.

On May 6, 1938, Mr. W. R. Glavin, in summarizing this incident, stated that he did not believe that Agent Laughlin had sufficient tact to continue as Number One Man at this time and recommended that his status be removed. In view of this recommendation, Agent Laughlin was transferred to New York City on May 25, 1938.

On February 17, 1938, in a re-training school report, Mr. L. A. Hince advised that this Agent is a fast-moving person, intelligent, alert and nervously energetic; that he gives the impression of being very frank but is tactful and apparently has a good attitude; that he doubts that he has ability to concentrate sufficiently to make an executive of any type but he is undoubtedly a willing investigator of above average prospects for development. Status, Good.

On February 10, 1938, in a 30 day efficiency report, SAC Donegan commented very favorably upon this Agent.

This Agent failed to qualify with all firearms during the last two quarters of 1937.

Average overtime per day for this employee, 3 hours, 36 minutes.

RECOMMENDATION

No change is recommended in this case.

Rating GOOD

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

I am rating Agent Laughlin as good in this efficiency report insofar as his work in this office has been good since his assignment into this District. He has exhibited administrative ability.

A few days ago he had an altercation with Agent Wolf for which I have criticized him for not showing good judgment and allowing his personal views to interfere with his duties. I believe that this particular incident reflects upon Agent Laughlin's administrative ability but in spite of this incident, I am of the opinion that Laughlin is a good Agent.

He makes a very good appearance; has a pleasing personality. He has made a number of talks in this District and I have received very favorable comments regarding his ability as a speaker.

He is loyal to the Bureau and amenable to discipline. He has a good knowledge of the Bureau's work. He is capable of handling hardened criminals and is qualified for dangerous assignment. He is a good automobile driver and is qualified in the use of firearms.

I have not had occasion to hear him testify because since his assignment into this District he has not had an occasion to testify in Court.

Agent Laughlin is intelligent and mentally alert. However, I am led to believe that he is quick tempered and the incident wherein he had an altercation with Agent Wolf is an example of this.

I am of the opinion that Agent Laughlin has possibilities for further development but he needs further seasoning before he is capable of directing the activities of others.

Have the contents of this report under the heading "Remarks" been read in full to the employee to whom they relate, and has the employee been informed as to the status reflected on the reverse side of this report? Yes

Re: THIRTY DAY REPORT ON SPECIAL AGENT L. L. LAUGHLIN.

Dear Sir:

In harmony with my recent letter to the Bureau in which I advised that I would make a thirty day report on the above agent today, please be advised that during the past thirty days this agent has been assigned primarily to the Espionage case at New York City, handling the Antoine Strassman angle. He has been performing satisfactory work.

He presents a good appearance, has a good personality, and as far as I have been able to observe during the past thirty days and from past knowledge of this special agent, he has a thorough knowledge of Bureau work, conducts a good investigation and writes up his work in a satisfactory manner. He impresses me as the type of individual who can handle almost any character of investigation. In this respect I rate him decidedly above the average in this office, and on general all-around ability I believe that he is better than the majority of special agents in the Bureau. He has been loyal, amenable to discipline and dependable and always appears to be willing. One could gather the impression that he is a trifle brusque at times. However, this is simply his mannerism and when you understand him this is eliminated.

This agent is qualified in the use of firearms and, I believe, is a good man to take on raids or dangerous assignments although I have never seen him function in any such capacity. He impresses me as having considerable fortitude, and I am convinced that he is not the type who could be shoved around by any local law enforcement officials. So far he is getting along nicely.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

In talking with Mr. Tamm this morning by phone, he suggested the desirability of the transfer of Special Agent L. L. Laughlin out of the New York Office for the reason that Mr. Laughlin, when assigned to Newark, had some difficulty with Mr. Donegan, who was the Agent in Charge at Newark. Since they are now in the same office I believe it would be desirable to transfer Mr. Laughlin to some other field division.

RE: SPECIAL AGENT L. L. LAUGHLIN

Age:	27 years
Marital Status:	Married, 1 child, son, 5 Mos.
Entered on duty:	December 12, 1935
Entered on duty New York:	May 25, 1938
Salary:	$3800
Preference:	Newark
Rules & Regulations:	97
Instructions:	98

In a discussion with this Agent I inquired of him whether he had any complaints, comments or criticisms to make of the Bureau and he stated that he had not; that he had discussed with other Agents the policy with reference to overtime and that while he appreciated the need for overtime and the purpose which the Bureau had in ordering overtime, he felt that the administration of the requirement of overtime was probably faulty in that the volume of work produced was not comparable to the amount of time which the men were required to spend at the office. Laughlin stated that he had personally only one altercation while he was in the Bureau's service and that this had been while he was attached to the Newark Office, at which time he had an argument with the then Special Agent in Charge, T. J. Donegan, concerning a situation in which he had been rather pointed in condemning another Agent and that during the course of this discussion Mr. Donegan had criticized him for referring to him, Donegan, by his first name, at which time Laughlin stated he informed Donegan that he had never referred to Donegan by his first name and was the only Agent in the Newark Office who did not so refer to Donegan, and that his, Laughlin's, reason for not so referring to Donegan was that he did not think enough of Donegan to call him by his first name. I subsequently asked Donegan if he had talked to Laughlin concerning Laughlin's referring to him by his first name and Donegan stated that he had not done so. I asked Donegan for his opinion of Laughlin and he stated that Laughlin was a better than average Agent who appeared to work hard but that he, Donegan, and Laughlin just did not get along with each other on a personal basis.

It is to be noted that Laughlin was engaged upon investigative work under the supervision of Mr. Donegan under the revised set-up established by you in the New York Office and a recommendation was made that Special Agent L. L. Laughlin be transferred out of New York.

Memo for Director

September 2, 1938.

Laughlin makes a good appearance, is steady, has poise, better than average investigative ability and appears to be ambitious. He, however, appears to have started off on the wrong foot in an encounter as described above which he had with Donegan and I believe that he will require some supervision in order to get him definitely on the right track mentally. I believe it would be well to transfer him out of New York, preferably to an office where the morale and attitude of the men generally are of such a nature as to set an example for him.

Respectfully,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Mr. Kitchin of Newark conferred with me this morning concerning the personnel situation in his office. We went over the personnel and were of the opinion that it would be necessary to transfer an employee to the Newark Division as Number One Man to replace Special Agent Banister. In a separate memorandum, I have recommended the filling of this position.

Mr. Kitchin also indicated that he thought he needed an additional man capable of handling Bankruptcy and involved racketeering cases, and an additional agent will be sent to Newark in the near future.

I spoke to Mr. Kitchin concerning Special Agent Leo Laughlin now assigned to the New York Office, at one time Number One Man at Newark. Mr. Kitchin stated he doubted the advisability of transferring Laughlin to Newark since he knows that Laughlin was generally disliked by members of the Newark Police Department.

I also spoke to Mr. Kitchin concerning the telephone call which we made to his office last week, when he was at Deagirt for firearms training and an agent other than the Number One Man was present in the office. He stated this was due to the fact that Agent Banister was handling training that day, and that he, Kitchin, was making a talk at Perth Amboy at noon, which permitted him to join the firearms training the same afternoon. He stated he ordinarily would keep the Number One Man in the office during his absence.

Agent Laughlin has been assigned to the Cincinnati Office only a few days and I have observed only one report submitted by him which was an applicant case which showed that his work in this instance was thorough and the report went into considerable detail. I have not observed him on the range but his file reflects that he has a satisfactory knowledge of the firearms and from his appearance I believe he would be a very satisfactory man in a dangerous assignment. He has not testified since assignment here. He is a capable automobile driver and a good typist. While I have seen very little of this Agent he impresses me as having more than average ability.

INSPECTOR EGAN:

This Agent is interested, aggressive, appears to be a hard worker, makes a good investigation and writes a good report. I believe that with proper supervision he can be developed. It is possible that he has some executive ability.

Thirty day Report.

Dear Sir:

This Agent, who reported to the Cincinnati Office on September 12, 1938, presents a very neat appearance, is always well dressed and has a good personality. Since his assignment to this office he has handled a variety of cases and has also had several short road trips. He conducts a thorough investigation and prepares his reports in a competent manner. He appears to be qualified to handle any type of investigation and I would expect him to function efficiently on dangerous assignments. He is industrious and handles his work with a minimum of supervision.

REMARKS

SAC Harris advises that this Agent's work as Resident Agent at Columbus, Ohio, has been very satisfactory. He has handled all types of cases with a minimum of supervision; is a diligent worker; turns out a considerable volume of work; submits very comprehensive reports; prepares his rough drafts in a satisfactory manner; and makes a satisfactory impression upon others. It is reported that this Agent is a capable automobile driver; has a satisfactory knowledge of the Bureau's technical equipment; is qualified in the use of firearms; and Mr. Harris believes he would give a good account of himself in any dangerous situation. He has had no opportunity to observe this Agent testify but from the manner in which he has handled assignments at conferences, he believes that he would be a very satisfactory witness. Mr. Harris states that this Agent has had some experience with administrative duties in the past and in his opinion he would have some ability in handling such duties.

Mr. Harris commented favorably concerning this Agent in his Thirty Day Report dated Nov. 2, 1938.

During the inspection of the Cincinnati Office in Sept., 1938, Mr. Egan advised that this Agent was interested, aggressive, appeared to be a hard worker, made a good investigation, prepared good reports, and it is possible that he has some executive ability.

In a memorandum dated Sept. 2, 1938, Mr. Tamm advised that in his opinion this Agent was steady, had poise, better than average investigative ability and appeared to be ambitious. It was Mr. Tamm's opinion that he had, however, started off on the wrong foot in an encounter with Mr. Donegan; that this Agent had advised Mr. Tamm he did not like Donegan, and Mr. Donegan later stated that in his opinion Agent Laughlin was a good Agent, but that he and this Agent did not get along well together personally. Mr. Tamm believed that he would require some supervision in order to get him definitely on the right track mentally, and suggested that he be transferred out of New York inasmuch as he was presently working under the supervision of Mr. Donegan.

In August, 1938, Inspector Gurnea and Agents Dalton and Flaxico stated this Agent was performing satisfactory service in New York City.

In a memorandum dated August 22, 1938, Mr. Tolson reported conversation with Mr. Kitchen concerning the advisability of transferring this Agent to Newark, at which time Mr. Kitchen doubted the advisability of such transfer since he knew that this Agent was generally disliked by members of the Newark Police Department.

Under date of August 1, 1938, former SAC Vetterli reported favorably concerning this employee, stating that he gathered the impression that he was a trifle brusque at times; that he had considerable fortitude; and he was convinced that this Agent was not the type who could be shoved around by any local law enforcement officials.

Special Efficiency Report.

Dear Sir:

This report is being submitted in view of the writer's transfer from the Cincinnati Office.

Agent Laughlin is a resident Agent at Columbus, Ohio, and his work in this capacity has been entirely satisfactory.
He is conscientious and dependable and turns out a considerable volume of work. He handles his work largely on his own initiative and with very little supervision and has the ability to handle all types of cases, including those of an involved nature. He submits reports in considerable detail. He has a good personality and makes a good impression on others. I consider him a better than average Agent.

Very truly yours,

I spoke to this Agent today and went over his file with him. He is a good investigator. He has a lot of energy. From the file and his general appearance he seems to me to be impulsive. I referred to the altercation he had with Agent Wolf at Newark, at which time Donegan said Laughlin was to blame in the main. With this I agreed. He simply lost his temper. He wanted to know whether he was "stymied" forever with the Bureau because of it, pointing out that he had not received an increase since January of 1938. I told him that no Agent is ever "stymied", as he expressed it, for one incident. I told him that he need not take my word for it, but if he had any knowledge of the Bureau's personnel and happenings, and I was sure he must (since I was certain the grapevine was still working efficiently), he would know of many Agents and Agents in Charge who had made one or more mistakes and been punished for them, and had later been accorded real administrative responsibility which they had earned. I told him that the Bureau could not afford to punish a man forever for a mistake; that, however, it was definitely unfortunate; that it might make the Director and the administrative staff suspect that he was hot-headed. I suggested that he, as much as possible, develop a tactful demeanor and a life insurance salesman approach. He really needs this.

He looks to possess unbounded energy. There is something in his file to the effect that Kitchin said he was not particularly popular with the Newark Police Department. I did not refer to this in talking with him, since he did not seem to know about it. I did ask him if his police contacts were good and he claimed they were very good. I really think he would naturally make good police contacts. He is of that type.

He is at present Resident Agent at Columbus. I think he would make a good Resident Agent and I think, if his work continues to be good, in about three months I would consider the possibility of trying him again as a #1 man. He has the energy and intelligence for supervisory work. I don't know if he has the self-control.

Very truly yours,

H. Nathan

Film of the chest reveals a slightly asymmetrical thorax, due to a slightly small left first rib, which diminishes the size of the left apex. The diaphragm is smooth and the costophrenic sinuses are clear. Both apices show a trace of scarring at their tips. The lungs are otherwise clear. The lung root shadows show a few calcium deposits. The heart approaches the asthenic type.

Dear Mr. Laughlin:

The Bureau has received the report of the physical examination afforded you at the United States Naval Hospital, Washington, D. C., on December 12, 1939.

This report reflects the following physical defects:

One and one-half pounds under minimum weight.

First degree bilateral flat foot - no symptoms.

In connection with your underweight condition, it will be necessary for you to gain at least one and one-half pounds during the next six months' period in order to conform with the weight standards of the Bureau. An additional examination will be afforded you at that time.

The Board of Examining Physicians recommends that you be vaccinated for smallpox and inoculated for typhoid. It states that you are capable of performing strenuous physical exertion and have no defects that would interfere with your participation in raids or other work involving the practical use of firearms.

For your information, it was determined during this examination that your blood is International Type "O".

Sincerely yours,

Agent Laughlin is tall and makes a very good personal appearance. He is energetic and seems to be filled with nervous energy. He gives the impression of being somewhat curt in manner. He is undoubtedly a good Agent as an investigator but needs development as a salesman. It is doubtful whether he has sufficient patience to do administrative work.

Dear Mr. Suran:

Reference is made to Mr. Drayton's personal and confidential communication to the Bureau under date of April 15, 1940, wherein he recommends that Special Agent L. L. Laughlin of the Cincinnati Office be considered for an increase in salary at this time.

It is regretted that it will not be possible to consider Mr. Laughlin for an increase in salary at this time. However, should the annual efficiency report covering this Agent, which is due on May 1 of this year, be entirely satisfactory, the Bureau at that time will give further consideration to the recommendation made by Special Agent in Charge Drayton.

Dear Sir: Re Special Agent L. L. LAUGHLIN

The writer has noted that Special Agent L. L. LAUGHLIN entered on duty on December 2, 1935, and is presently receiving a salary of $3800.00 a year in Grade CAF-11. It is believed that Agent LAUGHLIN is deserving of a higher salary, and it is recommended that the Bureau give consideration to raising him at least $200.00.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Re: SA Leo L. Laughlin

It is recommended that Special Agent Leo L. Laughlin, presently assigned to the Cincinnati office as Resident Agent at Columbus, Ohio, be transferred to the Bureau to relieve Special Agent J. L. Brennan who is presently assigned to the Fugitive Desk in the Investigative Division.

The attitude of this Agent has previously been the subject of comment in that he gives the impression of being somewhat curt in manner and that there has been a conflict of personalities with Agents with whom he has come in contact. It is also pointed out that he has unbounded energy and possesses considerable noticeable ambition. His record has been uniformly good. At the time Special Agent in Charge S. J. Drayton of the Cincinnati office was in Washington recently, he stated that Agent Laughlin is outstanding in his ability and loyalty to the Bureau, that the previous comments about his brusqueness apparently have been corrected by him and that he has developed a smooth manner.

Respectfully,

E. A. TAMM

I concur and suggest
Agent Brennan be

Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir: Re Special Agent L. L. LAUGHLIN,
Special Efficiency Report.

I assumed the duties of Special Agent in Charge of the Cincinnati Field Division on April 17, 1940, and Special Agent LAUGHLIN departed from this district on April 26, 1940, on transfer to the Washington Field Office, and I had very limited opportunity to observe his work, but did have the opportunity to visit Columbus, Ohio, during Agent LAUGHLIN'S assignment there. In my discussion with the Assistant U. S. Attorney and several law enforcement officials, I gained the impression that Agent LAUGHLIN maintained good contacts in Columbus, Ohio, and was performing this part of his position as Resident Agent at Columbus in a satisfactory manner.

Agent LAUGHLIN presents a good personal appearance and I was favorably impressed with his personality. From the limited number of reports prepared by Mr. LAUGHLIN which I have observed, he appears to conduct his investigations in a thorough manner.

Due to my limited observation of this Agent, I am unable to indicate whether he possesses executive ability. I have observed that his paper work on the whole is highly satisfactory.

REMARKS

SAC Drayton states that this Agent has a very nice personality and poise, a good knowledge of the Bureau's work, is aggressive and has handled the work as a resident Agent at Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Drayton has noted good contacts that this Agent has developed. He states he handles a large volume of work, conducts complete, thorough investigations, submits excellent reports, uses firearms well and, in Mr. Drayton's opinion, would acquit himself satisfactorily on a raid. He states his work needs a minimum of supervision, puts in a considerable amount of overtime voluntarily and possesses administrative and executive ability.

In a memorandum dated April 15, 1940, Mr. Tamm recommended that this Agent be brought into the Bureau as a Supervisor. Mr. Drayton recommended, in a letter dated April 15, 1940, that this Agent be offered an increase in salary.

At the conclusion of the In-Service Training School attended by this Agent, ending December 20, 1939, Mr. Hince stated that he is energetic, seems to be filled with nervous energy, gives the impression of being somewhat curt in manner, and is undoubtedly a good Agent as an investigator but needs development as a salesman. It is doubtful whether he has sufficient patience to do administrative work.

In a memorandum dated December 14, 1939, Mr. Nathan advised that, from a conversation with him, he thought this Agent would make a good Resident Agent and recommended that if his work continued to be good he would consider the possibility of trying him again as a Number One man. He has energy and intelligence for supervisory work. Mr. Nathan states he was not sure as to his self-control.

SAC Harris recommended favorably concerning this Agent, in a letter dated November 25, 1939, stating he considered him a better than average Agent.

REMARKS:

(Under this heading shall be set forth a digest of criticisms and conditions of significance which will reflect deficiencies, meritorious features, and special qualifications or disqualifications.)

Special Agent L. L. LAUGHLIN presents a very good personal appearance and has a very nice personality and poise. Agent LAUGHLIN has a very good knowledge of the Bureau's work because of his experience. He is aggressive and has handled the work as a resident Agent at Columbus, Ohio, in a highly satisfactory manner. The writer has been in Columbus on a number of occasions and has noted that Agent LAUGHLIN has developed some very good contacts among the more influential citizens in the community. It is also noted that Agent LAUGHLIN is apparently very well liked, not only by these contacts but by law enforcement officers in his district. Agent LAUGHLIN handles a large volume of work but at the same time, he conducts complete, thorough investigations. His reports are excellent. He is able to use firearms well and he would acquit himself satisfactorily on a raid or other dangerous assignment. He types well, dictates rapidly and submits good rough draft reports. His work needs a minimum of supervision. The writer has not had an opportunity to observe Agent LAUGHLIN while testifying in Court. He puts in a considerable amount of overtime voluntarily. The writer believes that Agent LAUGHLIN has definite indications of possessing administrative and executive ability.

Have the contents of this report under the heading "Remarks" been read in full to the employee to whom they relate, and has the employee been informed as to the status reflected on the reverse side of this report? Yes.

During the past thirty days Mr. Laughlin has been assigned to the Seat of Government in the capacity of a supervisor on the extortion desk. The work performed by him compares favorably with that performed by other Agents during the first thirty days of their assignment to the Seat of Government. I believe Mr. Laughlin, because of his varied experience in the Bureau, possesses definite possibilities for development along administrative and executive lines and I recommend the continuation of his assignment to the Seat of Government for training purposes.

Last evening I visited Training School Number 12 in Room 1266. Special Agent L. L. Laughlin was lecturing on extortion investigations.

I had previously heard Agent Laughlin lecture at Quantico under rather adverse conditions. At that time I took the news reel men into the classroom. His remarks appeared to be lacking in enthusiasm. He leaned against the speaker's rostrum. In general he appeared to be somewhat listless.

Last night I noticed that Mr. Laughlin was walking back and forth behind the hearing bench (you will recall that this is the old hearing room for the International Claims Commission) with his hands in his pockets. I doubt if he looked at the class 25% of the time that I heard him lecture. Although his material was well organized, his delivery could be vastly improved. He was mechanical, spoke in a monotone, appeared to be rather cold and lacking in enthusiasm. On one occasion he asked if any members of the class had questions and then promptly started passing behind the hearing bench, looking out the window, and towards the wall. One trainee held up his hand to ask a question but the instructor did not see him. The trainee then put his hand down and when the instructor next looked at the audience I raised my hand and called the attention of the instructor to the fact that the trainee had a question.

After Mr. Laughlin had completed his lecture I called him to my office and went over point for point the criticisms which are set forth above. Mr. Laughlin exhibited a very good attitude. He stated that he went in for dramatics when in school and that he naturally should know better than to look away from his audience. I also told him that he should modulate his voice, should exhibit more enthusiasm and that I would observe him in the near future. This will be done.

I think Mr. Laughlin has the ability to be an excellent lecturer but I think he needs considerable training and I believe it would be well to watch him closely.

Respectfully,

LEO. L. LAUGHLIN

I am the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, has been designated by the President to take charge of investigative work in matters relating to espionage, sabotage and violations of the neutrality regulations. This Bureau is also charged with the duty of investigating other matters bearing upon the maintenance of the internal security of the United States. The duties thus imposed upon this Bureau constitute a vital function in the national defense program of this country.

Leo L. Laughlin is a trained Special Agent and has been continuously employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation since December 2, 1935. He cannot be replaced satisfactorily because of the shortage of persons with his qualifications and experience in such activity, and his removal for induction would cause material loss of effectiveness in the conduct of the national defense work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Apropos of our discussion concerning the designation of a liaison man with the State, War, Navy, Treasury Departments and the Federal Communications Commission, I recommend that Special Agent A. M. Thurston be designated for this assignment. This will constitute a fulltime job because the man assigned as liaison will have to do a considerable amount of file searching, etc. in order to be on a sound ground on the various matters that he handles as a liaison man. To replace Mr. Thurston in the National Defense Division I recommend that Special Agent G. A. Nicholson, presently assigned to the Fugitive Desk, be assigned to the work formerly performed by Mr. Thurston.

You will recall that sometime ago Special Agent J. F. Pryor, who has been handling German espionage, was transferred to New York City and has not been replaced. It is recommended that Special Agent T. H. Pirnie be transferred to the Seat of Government for assignment to a supervisory post.

In view of the acceptance of the resignation of Supervisor Humphrey, who is leaving the Bureau on February 28th, it is recommended that Special Agent Leo Laughlin, presently assigned to the Investigative Division as a supervisor, be transferred to the National Defense Division.

If these recommendations are approved the names of two new supervisors for the Investigative Division to replace the two men being transferred to the National Defense Division will be submitted to you..

Respectfully,

Edward A. Tamm

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. P. E. FOXWORTH

RE: LEO L. LAUGHLIN, Special Agent
45-day Report

EOD 12-2-35

Special Agent Laughlin has been assigned as a supervisor in the Espionage Section of the National Defense Division since March 10, 1941. During this time he has been assigned as a supervisor on the German espionage desk. in 12

I have been very well pleased with the work of Special Agent Laughlin. He is conscientious and dependable and turns out a considerable volume of work. He handles his work largely on his own initiative and with very little supervision. He has indicated that he has the ability to handle matters of an involved nature. He submits memoranda in considerable detail.

Special Agent Laughlin has a good personality and I believe he makes a splendid impression on persons who come in contact with him.

Respectfully,

Harry M. Kimball

INSP. EGAN: Your attention is directed to the report submitted in this case by Agent CARPENTER under date of October 30, 1940, the synopsis of which is incorrect. It is also noted that the first four paragraphs of details are unnecessary. The report consists of eight pages which could have been condensed to a page or a page and one-half. The leads set out for Troy, Albany, and so forth, could have been handled by letter. The only information of value in the report that I find is an interview at SLIGHTS BARGAIN HOUSE, and the agent failed to handle this correctly. It has since been called to your attention by the Bureau in letter of November 7, 1940. No action has been taken to date.

SAC STEVENS: The criticism of the said report is well taken. We will make every effort in the future to see that this does not reoccur. Letters will be submitted to the various police departments to cover the leads mentioned, and the case will be assigned for investigative attention as soon as possible.
